Description of a specific embedded leadership challenge:

A paper that includes your ministry challenge...speak of the relation to leadership theories

This paper is more than 15 pages

Rost will help with a thorough review of leadership theory

A paper required in this module that will help you in gathering what you need in doing your project

Research of relevant leadership literature review

Expected in DMin project that you should review relevant literature—don't have to review all literature, but look at the spectrum, but not all sources

Reflect additional reading

Bibliography that should come out of your project of 60 plus books/journals/dissertation/articles.

You've discovered the author's thesis and picked pieces from the author

Don't have to find a quote you put in brackets.

Take an author and present him as a source for leadership theory and research

Reflects that you have gone to the literature and read well.

Portfolio should have other books journaled
Notice Skip's bibliography to define differences in subject areas
Have a section that offers a review of a number of titles (10-15 sources)
Personal leadership examined

Go to Fast company and you will see a case study of for instance the Whole Markets Call Rita and say, "Would you send me the course requirements for Dr. Bell's management sheets.
There is a case study example here.

Talk to that person how they envision the team, and permission to talk with 3 associates.
See what I can discover how you work together as a team. Want to see how you work.
Observe their critical moments, change points, how they relate to their staff. Not intended to take you weeks to do.
Read some neat examples of case studies.

Describe one critical incident in formation of a practice or simply have an interaction with that person of developing his business.
I want you to have an experience with the person you're interviewing.
